YOUR missionaries to San Luis Potosi, Mexico

Dear Pastor and church family,

July/Aug 2010

I (Stephanie West) recently returned from my two month mission trip in Nagercoil, India and it was AMAZING! We were able to participate in VBS ministry every night. We had the opportunity of going to a different village each night. When we arrived, we would separate into smaller groups and go out and invite people. The natives looked at us like we were crazy when they saw white people shouting "VANGA, VANGA!" (Which means, "COME, COME!"). But, intrigued by our joy and silly-ness, they came! We were very clear to everyone that the program was not just for kids, but for people of all ages. So many adults came as well. To start out the VBS we would sing one or two English songs to them, and then we would play a game. The remainder of the VBS consisted of teaching a verse and some songs (in
